History of Cracker Jack

Cracker Jack's mascots Sailor Jack and his dog Bingo were introduced in 1916. Sailor Jack was modeled after Robert Rueckheim, grandson of Frederick the creator of Cracker Jack. Sailor Jack's dog Bingo was based on a real-life dog named Russell.

Cracker Jack is known for being commonly sold at baseball games and is mentioned in the American standard "Take Me Out to the Ball Game".

Prizes were included in every box of Cracker Jack beginning in 1912. One of the first prizes was in 1914, when the company produced the first of two Cracker Jack baseball card issues, which featured players from both major leagues.

Dog Days of Summer

The phrase is actually a reference to the fact that, during this time, the Sun occupies the same region of the sky as Sirius, the brightest star visible from any part of Earth and part of the constellation Canis Major, the Greater Dog. This is why Sirius is sometimes called the Dog Star.
